

My experience

My experience was very rewarding, it was certainly a difficult project, but I got the necessary tools for its realization, likewise I relied on internet resources to resolve doubts, additional implementations to the course and generally deliver a more complete project.

I leave happy, even though my team decided to leave and I was limited in time with what was still missing, I managed to finish their proposals, no doubt I would have liked to add more elements, but that's what I achieved.

I will continue learning more about computer graphics since it is one of the subjects that I have liked the most in my career, it is not my main area of specialization, but I could consider it in the future as part of my professional development.
